Bremner sues the Government or Middle-by Bremner's solicitor that prior to the FIRE.

Seattle is scorched; loss $100,000. The business portion of the town destroyed, etc., etc. A few more telegrams of the above nature together with the details which follow by mail, must arouse the attention of our town authorities, and our citizens generally to the importance of taking steps towards avoiding like occurrences here. Our having been so free from loss by fire in the past should not be considered longer as an assurance that the same good luck is in store for us during the time to come. Occupying so commanding a situation that it is equalled by few and excelled by no other Territorial town we should have faith in its future by some show of progress in action. Private individuals may be said to have hitherto gained for Prince Albert any public spirited reputation it may possess. It is now the duty of our municipality to consider the importance of grappling in a proper spirit with such questions as fire, light, and drainage. Owing to our situation a complete system of water works should be possible without any very extravagant taxation and its superior advantages over the steam fire engine would more than compensate for the small additional outlay which may be needed in securing it. Apart altogether from its utility in the case of fire we have its great advantages both for household and sanitary purposes. A thorough system of any kind cannot be developed in a day, nor yet in a single year, but steps should at once be taken towards location from wherein supply will be most advantageously taken and probable cost of completion when fire, light and drainage each represent in itself an important question which must be taken up in the near future. The question of fire should be tackled without further delay. We believe the taxpayers are prepared to support the council in taking steps for the better security of life and property.

HE WAS IN SORE TROUBLE

A wise man should always speak of his neighbour as he finds him. Following out this idea we have always shown the full amount of journalistic courtesy to the present managing editor of the Saskatchewan that his position and past actions entitle him to, and can only express our keenest sympathy for him in his pleadings for public sympathy, when placed under the same treatment he once endeavored, with such energy, but short-lived success, to meet out to this paper.

This may be a "stick in the mud institution, devoid of independence, or sagacity," but it will not allow the learned doctor nor his paper to force citizens of the town into a puddle; nor yet will it allow the ridiculous and untruthful statements at times published in his paper to go uncontradicted. Neither will it allow boom articles, in the interests of Dakota, to be scattered broadcast, at the expense of our local capital. This may all seem unpleasant to an inexperienced editor, but we purpose hewing to the line even though some of the chips should hurt the Saskatchewan's managing editor.

With the significant question, in connection with the doctor's pamphlet article, we have little to do. Mr. Betts may have coaxed, urged, and after several vain attempts prevailed upon him to show a little public spirit by furnishing matter for two, five or fifty pages, in the interests of immigration. If so, we can only suggest that it demonstrates some of the interest he took in the work, and at the same time demonstrates that co-operation was hard to secure in certain quarters. Our connection with the question began after the m.s. was placed in our hands for printing. On two occasions requests were made to this office for its return by the doctor. These requests were naturally refused by us. Mr. Betts was seen, and hearing of the circumstances, and knowing that only one page had been printed immediately ordered its being handed back to Dr. Jardine, and at once set to work preparing matter to go on with, which has since been published. M.S. left at this office will be kept sacred, subject to the order of its writer. Things may be differently managed by our contemporary, but that is none of our funeral. Our impression is that the doctor thought, in the above instance, to put the pamphlet compiler in a hole, but somebody got left, and is accordingly angry.

NOT SO ANXIOUS AS HE ONCE WAS

Our River Street friend suggests, that too much anxiety has been shown by this paper in connection with the unfortunate Nisbet Academy muddle, and intimates the importance of our patiently awaiting the arrival of delegates from the General Assembly. Good advice, no doubt, and if the Saskatchewan keeps quiet we will endeavor to follow it. How much wiser it would have been, what an example of true charity would have been shown, had the doctor thought of this before publishing to the world, the important fact, that the Synod of his own late mission were playing an unholy game and seeking to defraud the congregation and people of our town out of their just rights, etc., etc., etc. The public can hardly have forgotten that charges similar to the above were made in an article published in his paper under the significant heading "Crooked proceedings in high places."

AT IT AGAIN.

Journalistic courtesy asserts that our statement regarding the action of the General Assembly was an unvarnished lie and the majority that supported Principal King's resolution think so. But in order that the public may be fully informed on all the questions connected with this unfortunate affair we would suggest that the Saskatchewan publish a full report of the debate which took place in the General Assembly on this question. Therein might be found good and sufficient reasons why Dr. Jardine's name does not figure on the list of trustees for the coming year.

We have every faith in the wisdom and fairness of the expected delegates, and have good reasons for believing that in their hands the interests of the citizens will not be overlooked and that things will proceed quite as satisfactory as though the injured member of the late board had not been lost sight of when the Synod was arranging for the management of Nisbet Academy matters for 1890-1891.

AND YET ANOTHER.

A copy of the Edmonton Bulletin of May 31st reached this office by last mail. We always take considerable interest in looking through this newsy paper and do not remember having failed to receive in the regular way, the above number. A short article on its fourth page may have been overlooked at the time and some person taking an interest in the development of our district, has taken this means of bringing to our notice another of the many influences being used towards drawing attention away from the valuable lands here offered for settlement. The article referred to is most significant and reads:—

"The following appears amongst the reading matter of the Prince Albert Saskatchewan. The thriving town of Langdon, county seat of Cavalier County, Dakota, surrounded by thousands of acres of choice government land. Country settled chiefly from Ontario. Secure a farm from the Government land. For further information, maps, rates, &c., apply to F. I. Whitney, G.P. & T.A., St. Paul, Minn., J. M. Huskins, 4 Palmer House, Toronto."

Knowing the amount of public spirit which usually manifests itself in the person of the editor of the Saskatchewan, we are not at all surprised that an article of the above kind should have found its way into the reading matter of his paper. If our memory is not astray, the above date occurred during the time that matter for the now famous special edition was being prepared. It has not been carefully read by us, but we trust the public bodies who supported its issue, from a honest desire to assist in developing our immediate district, have been careful not to be mulched into giving their generous assistance towards developing Cavalier County or some other equally undesirable point within the United States.

MONTREAL, July 7.—A young Scotchman here, three years from Aberdeen, named Wilson fell from a railway train between Wales, Ont., and Montreal and was killed.

The hot weather has had a bad effect on the health of children. The total mortality from all causes last week amounted to 239, of which 156 were infants under one year.

W. C. Smilie, president of the Canadian Bank Note Co., has withdrawn from the concern and returns to New York, accompanied by all the company's skilled workmen. An experience, extending over several years, has convinced Smilie that the company could not be made to pay, but others have taken hold of the business and will operate it on a different basis.

SAD ACCIDENT.

A very sad and painful shooting accident occurred on Sunday afternoon last, on the Carlton trail, about twenty five miles from Battleford, which resulted in the death of Edward Morrow, a popular and deservedly esteemed settler in that neighborhood. Deceased, in company with a Mr. and Mrs. Sayer, was riding in a buckboard and carrying a loaded shotgun between his knees, the muzzle pointing towards his body and the stock resting on the dash board, which was very low. By a sudden lurch of the rig the hammer of the gun lock came in contact with the dash board and discharged the piece, the whole contents entering the body above the naval. So closely was the gun pressed against his body that the young fellow's companions did not hear the report of the explosion and were not aware that anything had occurred until he jumped to the ground exclaiming "I'm shot." He got back into the buck board and drove four miles to the ranche of McFarlane Bros., when on arrival he stepped out and walked into the house unaided. He knew he had received his death wound. His sufferings were great, and his mind was perfectly clear. He died on Sunday night, shortly after the arrival of Dr. McAdams, of Battleford.

Deceased was a member of the Police force for five years, serving in F Division, Prince Albert, and took part in the battle of Duck Lake in 1885. Leaving the force a couple of years ago, he went into partnership with his uncle, Mr. Sandy Warden, on a cattle ranche some five miles from where he died.

He was buried in the Presbyterian cemetery, Battleford, on Tuesday last, receiving as an ex-policeman a military funeral, which was also largely attended by residents of that town and surrounding country, amongst whom the young man was very generally esteemed.

His mother was visiting friends in Battleford at the time of the accident, and did not hear of it in time to reach his bed side before he died. She is in delicate health, and it is feared the shock will prove serious to her.
